

Litfest 2018

'As You Like It', the English Club of Delhi Public School, Gurgaon, organized the annual Lit-fest on 30th July 2018, on the theme - Celebrating women: changing perceptions. A variety of events and activities were organised for curious young minds to explore the infinite possibilities of the world of English literature.

'Comic-a-Tale' gave wings to the imagination of children of class VI to design comic strips related to the theme of 'Super moms'. Class VII enacted creative advertisements in the activity, 'Mad-Ad-World'. Class IX put up an extravagant 'Radio-show' followed by 'Quiz-Trivia', a literary quiz conducted for class X students.

'Musical Soiree' was the showcase of the day as each section of class VIII presented a musical rendition of poems either written by women poets or highlighting the theme of the day.

The fest was inaugurated by the Principal, Ms. Aditi Misra, who lauded the collaborative efforts of mentors, teachers and students. She reiterated the value of such a creative platform to explore the latent potential of the young learners.

Beautiful collages made by class XI students based on the theme of women empowerment and women safety adorned the venue. A mime show presenting Navrasa- facets of a woman, was presented along with a Radio Show by the students of class IX.

The curtains came down with a one act play based on Act IV, Scene 1 of the famous Shakespearean masterpiece 'The Merchant of Venice' by the students of class XII.

This endeavour of the English club, to familiarize learners with the fascinating world of English literature continues with the promise of more literary experiences in the years to come.
