

Good Readers' Visit to NBT

Reading is important, because if you can read, you can learn anything about everything and everything about anything. —Tomie dePaola

Books play a significant role in our lives. To nurture the love for reading, the good readers of class V with the Librarian and two teachers of the Junior wing went to the National Book Trust of India on 30th January 2019.

Children were apprised of the diverse collection of books available at NBT and were given an opportunity to browse through them. An informative session with Mr Devender Singh Mewari, a renowned author enthralled the students. He emphasized on the importance of reading and encouraged them to write poems and articles.

The visit was an enriching experience for the good readers who were delighted to get such an opportunity and selected quite a few books for themselves.
