

DELHI PUBLIC SCHOOL, GURGAON REPORT ALPHANODE

The beautiful spectrum of life teaches us a lot once we become resilient and keep moving ahead, overcoming the obstacles with optimism. Keeping this thought in mind, Delhi Public School, Gurgaon organised its annual IT Fest ALPHANODE, which culminated with the announcement of results, on 5th June 2020. The prevailing situation did not dampen the spirit of the students and participants from over 20 schools as they participated with enthusiasm.

The Director Principal, Ms Aditi Misra, believes that in these unusual times, such competitions help the students in interacting with their peers, albeit virtually. She believes that the students should make the most of such events as they help in honing their skills along with learning new ones.

Both group and individual competitions were organized. It included a movie making competition, 'In Focus'. Web Designing, Motion Graphics and Digital Imaging were parameters of the event, 'Create X' which enabled the students to have a better understanding of various softwares. The event, 'Geekathon' assessed the participants' aural skills and their knowledge of computers. Other events included 'M-Sway', 'Synergy', and 'What's on your mind', all designed to explore the world of computers whilst creating something new.

The overall winner and recipient of Letter of Honour was Delhi Public School, Sushant Lok. The competition ended with the hope that the students would get to meet their competitors in person next year and would learn something new as they compete.
