

WORKSHOP REPORT

A workshop on 'Care For Heritage' for the students of Middle school and Senior school was conducted by INTACH on 23rd October 2019 at INTACH Lodhi Road New Delhi. It was attended by Ms. Ritu Singh and four students of class 8th and 9th Delhi Public School, Gurgaon.

The workshop started, with an introduction of the role being played by INTACH in the conservation of our country's heritage, by Ms. Purnima Datt, Principal Director Heritage Education and Communication Service. Ms. Padma Rohila, Director INTACH Conservation Department and her team enlightened the participants about various kinds of material heritage in our country such as metal craft items, paintings and textiles etc. and the need to conserve it.

The one day workshop was quite informative and enriching. The workshop brought into light different methods of protecting the material heritage of our country. Activities such as 'mounting and hinging', preparation of 'starch based gum' and a visit to the lab for the observation of objects preserved there were conducted by the expert conservators of INTACH Conservation Institute.

The workshop not only gave hands-on experience on conservation techniques but also gave an insight to the young generation about the heritage of our country and means and importance of protecting it

Overall, it was a very interesting and interactive workshop with a lot of hands-on activities. A great learning experience.
