“Language is the infinite use of finite means.” ~ Wilhelm Von Humboldt

The ardent love for English, helped the students of DPS Gurgaon find solace in the language even during these tough times. The English Club-As you Like It, conducted activities from 1st July to 10th July, 2020 with great zeal and fervour.

The activity ‘Mom’s Little Helper’ was conducted for the students of class VI wherein the young minds were asked to draw illustrations and attach photographs while lending a helping hand to their parents. Gripping comic strips were designed by the students of class VII. The theme was ‘Fairy Tale with a Twist’. The students of class VIII penned down a self-composed poem of about 12 - 20 lines on the topic, ‘Happiness and Nature’, thereby unleashing their inner poetic talent.

The captivating idea of a Radio Show, allowed the students of class IX to exhibit their skills of teamwork to compile an audio of about 5 mins, including the elements of humour and positivity in the form of a jingle, advertisement, report or interview. The children of class XI created Digital Magazines. The creativity of the students came to fore as they incorporated positive thoughts and comic elements in their magazines which contained sections such as articles, poems, puzzles etc.

The week passed by very swiftly, with the children participating in activities with great enthusiasm, leaving us with a reflection that creativity has no bounds.

Mom's Little Helper

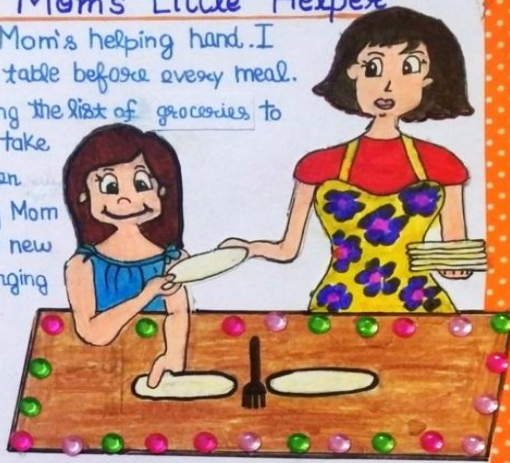

It is rightly said that 'Parental love is the only love that is truly selfless, unconditional and forgiving. I love helping my parents throughout the day. In the morning, I help my mother washing dishes. I help my father by giving him newspaper and spectacles. Then I clean my study table and water the plants. Then I prepare the table for the dinner. I get a feeling of immense satisfaction when I help my family and others. I feel that everyone should be aware of their social responsibilities and try to help fellow beings.

Activity - Mom's Little Helper

At home I am my Mom's helping hand. I help her to set the table before every meal. I help her in making the list of groceries to be bought. We also take care of our garden together. While helping Mom I have learnt many new things like by arranging table I have learnt table etiquettes. Making the list of groceries has increased my vocabulary and gardening helped me learn about new plants.

Activity - Mom's Little Helper

We all are struggling right now to overcome pandemic, but our hygiene standards are at an all-time high. It's lockdown time and everybody is working from home, the helpers are not there so the household chores need to be shared to reduce the load especially from my Mom's shoulder. I help my mom in making snacks, folding clothes, gardening etc. I keep my little sister occupied to support her. I feel happy to do my bit, it makes me feel responsible towards my family. 😊
